Dedication

PROFESSOR JOHN R. ROBERTSON

Gentleman and Scholar

The Executive Staff of the 1966 Pickout is happy to make this dedication to Professor "Robby" Robertson, Head of the Department of Social Sciences, and also Chairman of the Division of General Studies. A congenial and respected member of the Faculty since 1947, he has served as its Vice-Chairman and Chairman. Over the years he has been faculty adviser to many student organizations; at present, the Student Senate.

The 1966 Pickout

Message from the President

The best of the fine group that matriculated at Lowell Technological Institute with high hopes just a short time ago now takes leave of us as the graduating class of 1966. You have ample reason to be most proud of the fact you survived those difficult years which saw many of your classmates fall by the wayside, and mastered in varying degree the skills needed to compete successfully in the professional world awaiting you.

That professional world is indeed a remarkable one. Perhaps never in the turbulent history of our nation have such awesome challenges as those of the mid-sixties confronted young Americans. You are venturing into a world faced with national and international problems of enormous gravity and complexity. At the same time, the portion of your professional education just now completed is a good deal better education than was generally available only a few years ago. With it, and with these challenges to stimulate your use of it, you face the new professional world with major promise.

In technology, science, and space, for which your education at Lowell Tech so admirably fits you, the opportunities are unlimited. The same high hopes and the same rugged determination you brought here when you started, now tempered with knowledge, skills, and judgment garnered in these years of study, will serve you well.

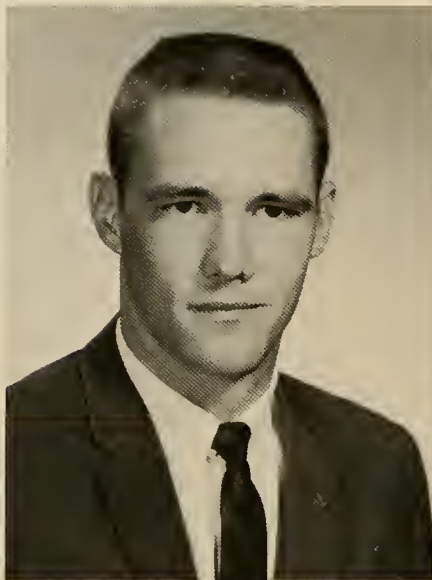

I bid you God-speed with great pride, best wishes, and every confidence that you will make all of us at LTI most proud. Come back often!

Sixty Four Years Ago

(Southwick Hall opened for classes in the fall of 1902. The following is a photo reproduction of a report that was published by the Lowell Board of Trade of that year.)

The Lowell Textile School.

This school is established and was opened for pupils February 1, 1897, "for instruction in the theory and practical art of textile and kindred branches of industry." It is managed by a duly incorporated body styled the "Trustees of the Lowell Textile School," composed of twenty permanent Trustees, two appointed for four-year terms by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Mayor, Superintendent of Public Schools, and the presiding officers of the two branches of the City Council of the City of Lowell, and an annually-elected representative of the Lowell Textile Council, a labor organization. Through its officers, President, Vice-President, Clerk, Treasurer, and a Finance Committee, and sub-committees for each department, the Corporation keeps directly in touch with the school. The Principal, William W. Crosby, S. B., is a graduate of, and late instructor in Mechanical Engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Instruction is given in eleven departments, each with a chief and staff of assistants.

The cotton department includes yarn making, from cotton in the seed to the finished product; the woolen and worsted department, woolen and worsted yarn; the weaving department, the making of cloth up to the finest and most varied fabrics. The department of textile design embraces original, combined and applied design in weave and color, and cloth analysis. Decorative art includes historic ornament, conventionalizing of plant and other nature forms, color, etc., fundamental and preparatory to all branches of decorative art but with special reference to textile design. The departments of mechanical engineering and electrical engineering give thorough instruction in the elements and theory of those two branches and their application in mill equipment and administration. Such knowledge of mathematics as is required in yarn making and weaving and machine "calculations," which include a considerable knowledge of algebra, is furnished by instructors in mathematics. Dyeing is exhaustive in its demands on Chemistry; and therefore a thorough course in General Chemistry is provided. The professor-in-chief and three assistants of this department are graduates of scientific institutions of the higher class. A corps of "native" teachers give instruction in all commercial languages. At present there are ninety students in the day classes, representing all sections of the country, sixty-two being residents of Massachusetts, and three hundred and seventy-five, mostly from the mills and shops of the cities of Lowell and Lawrence, and adjoining towns of the Merrimack Valley district, in the evening classes.

William W. Crosby

The school is located in the Parker Block, Middle Street, with an entrance also from Merrimack Street through Masonic Temple. At the opening it occupied 10,000 square feet of floor space, but this has been increased to about 30,000 square feet. Provision is being made for a permanent home for the school which will provide ample space for its growth for a long term of years. The site is a noble one, of some five acres, on the north bank of the Merrimack River, abutting on Moody Street, and overlooking the falls first utilized in this country for power weaving on an extensive scale. The founders of the textile corporations at Lowell were the founders of the textile industry of America. A main building 260 feet long by 80 deep, the central mass three stories high and the wings two stories, with a light basement under the whole, will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the fall term in 1902. In this building will be located the chemistry, dyeing and finishing department—occupying about one half thereof—the departments of mechanical and electrical engineering and, for the present, textile design, decorative art, and the administration offices, library and class rooms generally. A central entrance and driveway gives admission to what will eventually be an enclosed court 125x200 feet square, the entire group of buildings forming the four sides of this court. This building is to be known as Southwick Hall, in memory of a gentleman formerly a leading representative of the textile industry in the Merrimack Valley, an ancestor on the maternal side of Frederick F. Ayer, Esq., of New York City to whose generous contribution, with an equal one by the state, the corporation is indebted for this imposing and model educational building. It is of light brick, trimmed with granite and Indiana lime stone.

Through the generosity of Charlotte P. Kitson, and Miss Emma K. Stott, and the Kitson Machine Company, a building for cotton spinning will be erected this season to be occupied at the fall opening of the school. It will extend the entire front on Stirling Street, connecting with Southwick Hall at a right angle. It will be known as Kitson Hall, in memory of the late Richard Kitson, founder of the machine company, and Sarah Kitson, his wife. This building will be one story and conform in outside architecture, quality of brick trimmings, etc., to the first story of Southwick Hall. It will be 253 feet long by 60 feet deep.

Plans have been prepared for a third building to occupy the entire front on Falmouth Street and forming the third side of the proposed parallelogram, and some contributions have been received toward the cost thereof. For 120 feet it will be one story and full basement, 75 feet deep, and be occupied by the machinery of the weaving and woolen and worsted departments. It is hoped that this portion of this front will also be ready for occupancy at the opening of the next fall term. This wing will be completed by a head house 80x80 feet square, two stories and basement, fronting on Colonial avenue, towards the river, and be similar in architecture to the southerly end of Southwick Hall on the same front, 190 feet distant.

It is proposed to fill this gap, the noblest front of the site, overlooking the falls and manufacturing section of the city and surrounding heights, with a building devoted to art, textile design, textile collections, libraries, general administration and miscellaneous class rooms when means are available. This will complete the present plan of the parallelogram of buildings for the school.

While the pupils are thoroughly grounded in the elements and principles of the sciences and arts on which the textile industry depends, the experience of other technical schools has shown that it is important to rigidly guard against the school becoming too largely academic; and that instruction at the school may be of such a character as to insure that the graduates be experts immediately available and useful in the textile industry, it is provided in the by-laws of the corporation that three-fourths of the permanent Trustees shall be directly interested in the textile industry. The percentage has always been larger than this. The candidate for graduation is not only required to pass the usual academic examination, with thesis, etc., of the higher general educational institutions, but also such an examination by representatives of the textile industry and the great employers thereof, as would be required in candidates presenting themselves for employment in the industry. To further insure the practical value of the instruction touch is kept with the graduates after they have entered the mills, shops, selling houses, etc., where experts in textiles are required, and the benefit of their experience is had in improving the curriculum and methods of instruction. That the school, now but five years old, is accomplishing the results aimed at is shown by the satisfactory service its graduates are giving in the mills and machine shops, in the textile distributing houses at the commercial centres, and in their success in competing for and obtaining positions in the national customs and army purchasing bureaus of the national government where experts in textile machinery, cloth construction and dyes are required. The school plant now aggregates over $300,000 of visible assets in land, buildings, equipment and cash for existing contracts, of which the Commonwealth has contributed $91,750.

JAMES T. SMITH,
Corporation Clerk.

Lowell, April 11, 1902.

FROM THE CURRENT CATALOGUE:

Lowell Technological Institute was incorporated in 1895 and formally opened for the teaching of textile technology subjects on January 30, 1897. It was then known as the Lowell Textile School and awarded only certificates and diplomas. Growth of the school in size, prestige, and scope of curriculum was rapid, and in 1913 it was granted the right to confer four-year degrees in textile engineering and textile chemistry.

In 1928 the name was changed to the Lowell Textile Institute to indicate more fully the collegiate status of the institution. Its continued growth resulted in further diversification of its areas of specialization, and since 1949 degree programs have been added in the fields of leather chemistry, paper engineering, electrical engineering, plastics technology, mechanical engineering, chemistry, chemical engineering, physics, mathematics, nuclear science, nuclear engineering, industrial management, business administration and meteorology.

In view of the present greatly expanded scope of the engineering program, the name of the college was once more changed, in 1953, to the Lowell Technological Institute. The Institute grants Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

Delta Kappa Phi

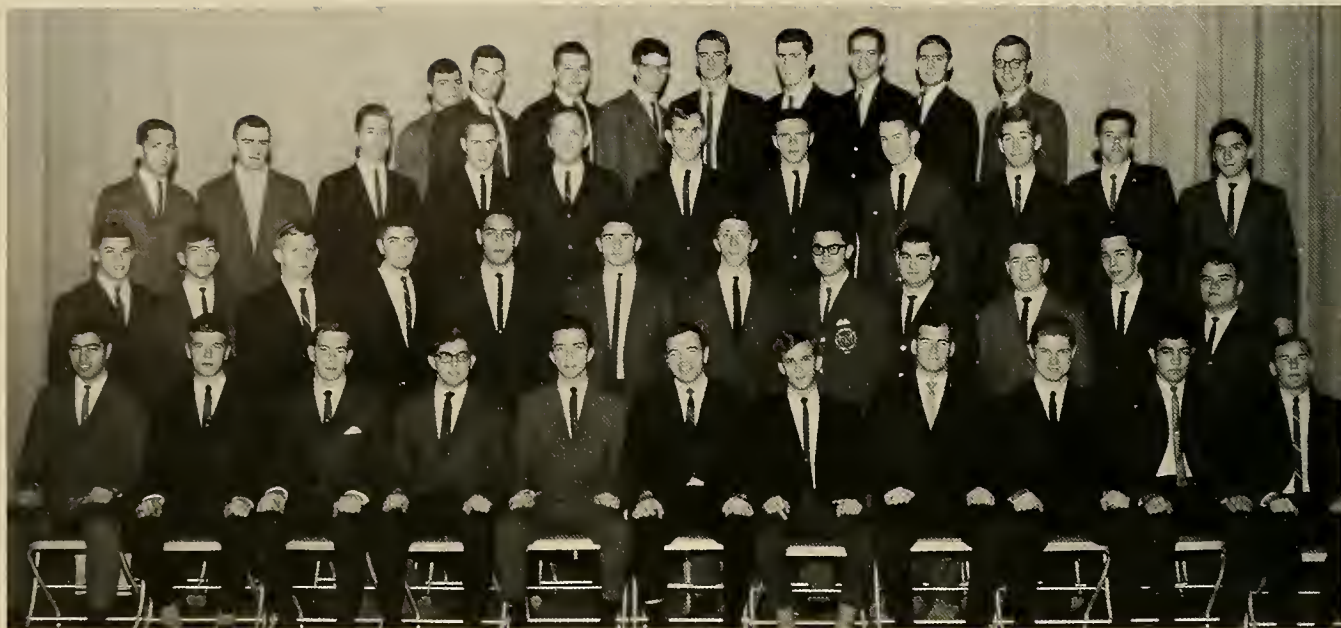

In 1902 Delta Kappa Phi Fraternity became the second Textile Fraternity to be incorporated in the United States. From its beginning at Philadelphia College of Textiles and Sciences, D.K. has grown to a small national social fraternity which includes schools of engineering, science, and liberal arts. Here at Lowell Tech, Beta Chapter takes full advantage of the relative independence and mutual cooperation of a small national.

The brothers of D.K. acquire a well rounded character development by following the long established tenets of the fraternity. Numbered among these are the promotion and encouragement of a fraternal relationship by its members, and the thorough education of its members in the fields of textiles, engineering, the sciences, and liberal arts. D.K. men are active participants in all forms of school activity. This year brothers found prominence in all our varsity sports, as class officers, as members of the Student Council, as presidents and leaders of various campus organizations, and as active members of nearly all the student societies. The house is especially proud of its members who were elevated to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

"Hell Week" this year proved highly successful as the new brothers employed their skills improving the exterior and interior of the house on Fletcher Street. On the outside, the parking lot was enlarged and paved and a handsome retaining wall was added. Inside, the dining room and T.V. room received new faces, and the blue room has an added touch of class. After this auspicious beginning, the Dekes surged on to I.F.C. Weekend where the house pulled in the Volleyball, Blood Donation, and Choral Trophies, and last, but certainly not least, the Scholastic Trophy. The brotherhood also looks back on the rest of the school year which included great parties, sports competition, the satisfaction of scholastic achievement, and a rich and rewarding brotherhood. These are the things that form warm memories for all the men of Delta Kappa Phi.

Omicron Pi

In 1902, when Lowell Textile School was just seven years old, seven men met and formed the first fraternity to be established at Lowell: Omicron Pi. Founded with the intention of promoting brotherhood and of forming a society of men having common interests and ideals, O Pi has chosen to remain independent and, until recently, was the only independent fraternity on campus. Its strong and loyal alumni take their places in the military, the arts and sciences, and the academic professions of modern America. Every year those who are able to do so return to O Pi at the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas Dinners and reminisce with the active chapter.

The active chapter, however, has quite a bit to recall on its own. This was the year that the active chapter barely beat the alumni by one point in the annual basketball game. This was the year that O Pi was the team to beat in football, softball, basketball, and bowling. Socially, this was the year the house went Polynesian and outdid itself at the Luau. The Monte Carlo Rushing Party "packed 'em in" and the smoke, noise, and laughter brought Las Vegas to Lowell on an early Spring night. The Stag was the greatest ever, but the biggest weekend was just around the corner. May brought the Formal, new officers, and memories to be cherished for years to come.

September and Hell Week brought the pledges, and the house regained its original tip-top shape. The Whipple got new customers mixed in with the old, and, as this year's seniors look back on their college years, O Pi will stand out in their memories.

Phi Gamma Psi

Phi Gamma Psi Fraternity was created to fill a social need. Its aims are: to create and promote among its members an indissoluble tie of friendship and loyalty; to unite under the spirit of Phi Gamma Psi a brotherhood based on the worth of the individual as a human being; and to assist, by every honorable means, the advancement of its members.

The transition from Phi Psi to Phi Gamma Psi was completed last year with the acceptance of our new constitution and the formation of our first Phi Gamma Psi Alumni Chapter. The decision of whether or not to seek affiliation with a national fraternity was postponed until next year at which time the majority of the brothers will belong exclusively to Phi Gamma Psi.

Phi Gamma Psi wishes to thank its alumni, members, and friends for making 1965-66 a successful year. First was Hell Week, during which the pledges renovated the house from top to bottom, and after which the Pledge Party was a tremendous smash with the new brothers acting as if they had been there all their lives. The next big event was Alumni Weekend, and, as usual, the alumni lost the traditional football game on Saturday. The party that was held that evening was enjoyed by all, and Sunday brought a more solemn occasion as "third degree" was conferred upon the new brothers at a dinner meeting. The following week was I.F.C. Weekend at which our theme was Hunting and our game was "Playboy Bunnies." After Thanksgiving the brothers rented a ski lodge for the season and, just before Christmas vacation, we had our annual Christmas Party for some local children. They thought that the turkey was satisfying but nothing could top Santa and his Pack. Military Ball Weekend and All Tech Weekend saw the brotherhood welcoming the freshmen to their first taste of fraternity life, and later came the rushing parties which were a large success. To close out the year, the fraternity formal dinner and dance was held in May at which time the annual awards were given.

The brothers participated in all sports, in the student government, and in many clubs in the school. We are saddened at the loss of the graduates, but look forward to next year when we will experience new friendships and meet new brothers.

Pi Lambda Phi

In 1949, Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity appeared on the Lowell Tech campus as the Massachusetts Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity. Then, as now, Pi Lam is the only national social fraternity on the Tech campus. Today, it ranks high in the national chapter roll. In its seventeenth year at L.T.I., Pi Lam, under the leadership of Rex Stanley Almoney, has continued to maintain its prominence and fulfill its duties and obligations to the school. Throughout the school Pi Lam continues to stand out with an ever-flourishing distinction. Members of Pi Lam are highly active in school organizations and hold offices of responsibility in the Text, the Pickout, Circle K, the Varsity Club, the Student Council, I.F.C., Hillel, Phanor, and IEEE.

The Pi Lam house has stood these many years near the crest of Livingston Avenue, the sacred inner sanctum of the fraternity, often referred to as the "House on the Hill," has been the scene of many a festive affair, wild debate, brawl, and other events, sedate or noisy, which go far toward making the fraternity a unique organization.

After the two month tragedy that befell us after "Hell Week," Pi Lam bounced back and began the feverish activity of getting ready for those house parties we missed the first part of the year. With the brothers getting last-minute dates and hoping for the best, the house clean and neat, expectantly awaiting the female invasion, the house really began to swing!

In looking back, many are the exciting times clearly remembered. The midnight "bull sessions" with the periodic cry of "pipe down" rocketing through the house, foregoing homework for a good television program, the endless waiting to take a shower and when the time finally arrived, lo and behold, no hot water, cold nights with the wind howling through the cracks, and visions of hanging the House Manager dancing through numbed minds. These events are but sidelights, just normal occurrences in the life of a Pi Lam Brother.

Th Fraternity has continued to move forward as the current group shows every indication of upholding the fine traditions of the past and is moving steadily ahead in the future. Pi Lam looks forward to another successful year, with many memories and new friendships, which could be gained only through the existence of a fraternal atmosphere such as one finds among the Brothers of Pi Lam.

Phi Sigma Rho

In 1937 Phi Sigma Rho Sorority was founded under the name of Phlame, the letters designating the names of the original charter members. It was the first organization on campus established to bond together the women students of the Institute. Phi Sigma Rho promotes recreation for the members and renders social services to the community. In 1948 the Greek letters were substituted for the name Phlame, and then, in 1955, the ideals of the sorority—knowledge, equality, conscience, achievement, and friendship—were placed on the sorority crest.

This year started with "Hell Week" for the pledges and was followed by the traditional Welcome Party. As the Christmas season approached, the girls busied themselves by preparing Christmas favors which were given to patients in local nursing homes. This year the sorority also sponsored a Christmas party for all the women students in the school.

The rushing season began with a card party to acquaint prospective members with the sorority sisters. The sisters also enjoyed quiet get-togethers which were climaxed by the annual event that beats all—Sorority Weekend. In years to come it is hoped that the sorority will continue to grow, and that its members will always cherish their fond memories of Phi Sigma Rho.

Inter-fraternity Council

Fraternalities at Lowell Tech are among the most active organizations on campus. Although the four fraternities are completely separate and distinct, certain functions and interests are common to all fraternity men. The Inter-Fraternity Council is the co-ordinating and regulating body for all the fraternities' common interests and functions. The IFC consists of a four-man delegation from each fraternity. The offices are rotated every year, so that each fraternity in turn holds the chairmanship. The primary duties of the IFC are to set the beginning and end of the rushing period, to establish dates for Hell Week, and to inform the administration as to fraternity policy. The IFC also sponsors an Inter-Fraternity sports schedule and the Inter-Fraternity Weekend, complete with parties and dancing.

The purpose of the Student Council is to express and promote the interests and opinions of the student body. The Council has investigatory powers over all undergraduate school-sponsored activities and organizations which are competitively open to any student at his request. It has the further power to legislate and to enforce, with administration approval, regulations concerning student life on the campus and to try all cases involving infringement of these regulations. It is the further purpose of the Council to subsidize, in part, any student-wide function, utilizing a five dollar allotment from the student activities fee.

In the course of a year the Council handles a number of routine assignments which include freshman and upperclass elections, the election of new officers to the Council each Spring, running the freshman banquet, the yearly Upstream Day Classic, and All-Tech Weekend. Aside from the normal business, many other problems are encountered such as reviewing the constitutions of old organizations and ratifying those of new clubs, and the holding of meetings of campus leaders to discuss important issues and to keep them informed of the various activities of each organization. Each year the Council publishes a report which gives a clear picture of the expenditures, functions, and problems faced during the year.

Text

The Text is the official news publication of the Institute; it is issued every two weeks and contains campus news, reports on industry, student activities, sports, and feature articles. Its purpose is to provide the students and faculty with information concerning all pertinent functions and activities. In addition, it offers any one interested a media to express his or her feelings to the student body as a whole. The newspaper is one of the school's most important institutions in that it is the voice of both the students and the faculty, and it is here that all criticisms and suggestions are presented and acted upon.

Membership is open to anyone interested in writing, photography, layout, or business management. Since the Text is completely run and published by the students, it provides staff members an excellent opportunity to gain and develop valuable experience in formal writing and business administration.

Circle K

The basic purpose of the Circle K Club is to help the student body and the administration in any way possible. All upperclassmen who have a cumulative average above 2.0 and who wish to serve their school may apply for membership in the club. Each year the club awards a scientific book to the freshman with the highest first semester average, it publishes the student handbook—The Key, it conducts an annual blood drive and an annual Goodwill Drive, and aids the administration and T.O.C. in registration and freshmen orientation. Other service projects include free coat checking at all dances, publication and distribution of programs at home basketball games, a freshman tutoring program, and a school clean up-campaign.

The Circle K is an international organization and each year the club sends a representative to the national convention, in addition, all the club members attend the annual New England District convention. Over the past few years the club has established itself as one of the strongest and most active clubs in the district and has received national recognition for its Key handbook publication.

The Key is the student handbook of Lowell Tech; it contains pertinent information that the new student needs to know concerning campus facilities, extracurricular activities, athletics, fraternities, and student rules and regulations. Its main objective is to introduce the freshman to student life and the L.T.I. campus during the orientation period.

It is published and distributed by the members of Circle K as a service project and has received national recognition by the Kiwanis Club.

Angel Flight

Angel Flight, an organization new to Lowell Technological Institute, is sponsored by both Pershing Rifles and the Arnold Air Society. It was created primarily to promote social activities in the ROTC department; but is also a service organization for the school and the community in general.

Projects for this year have included supporting Pershing Rifles at their drill meets, frequent visits with the blind, and the organization of a girls drill team.

Due to the lack of uniforms, we have been unable to test ourselves in drill meets as yet, but things look brighter for the future. We hope the organization will continue to expand and progress as it has done this past year.

The Arnold Air Society is a professional honorary service organization of AFROTC cadets from 170 of the nation's colleges and universities. Its objectives are: (1) to aid in the development and production of Air Force officers; (2) to create a closer and more efficient relationship within the Air Officer Training Corps; (3) to further the purpose, traditions, and concepts of the United States Air Force; (4) to support Aerospace Power and its role in national security; and (5) to advance air and space age citizenship.

The Arnold Air Society is one of the most active societies on campus. It sponsors the annual blood drive, participates in the help class program at the Rogers School by contributing members as teachers, conducts an aerospace display at the Technorama Science Fair, sponsors a Church Day, and presents an annual Military Ball Weekend.

The society is composed entirely of advanced cadets who have shown outstanding leadership ability, a willingness to serve the school, and a genuine interest in the United States Air Force. Prospective members have to serve in a rigorous pledge program before they are accepted into the society.

In September of 1962, the AFROTC department instituted an armed drill team which four months later became a unit of the national military honor society, "Pershing Rifles."

The unit was initiated into the 12th Regiment and was awarded the designation, "Squadron N, Pershing Rifles." The next day, Squadron N marched at the Commonwealth Armory in Boston to compete in the New England Championships. Squadron N took third place in the competition and later became the first team to ever receive a perfect score in the Regulation Drill portion of the Area A, ROTC Drill Meet. Since that time, winning has become a tradition for the Squadron. Last year alone, the unit brought back more than six trophies won in competition and they are already off to what could be an even greater season this year.

The purpose of the organization is symbolized by their official crest: a Grecian helmet and torse, above a torch and crossed rifles, on a shield. The helmet symbolizes both the courage of the members and the safety in the society. The torse represents the romantic aspect of heraldry and symbolizes the service, representing the cooperative efforts of the society. The proper utilization of military power, represented by the rifles, demands a high degree of intelligence combined with a strong sense of obligation to, and love for, this country. It is toward this proper utilization of military power that the training of Pershing Rifles is devoted.

The Audio-Visual Society is a service organization which was formed under the Library Association in 1960. It is divided into three branches. The audio division presents music for special school occasions and controls the use of public address equipment. The visual division presents feature movies, weekly films, and classroom aids. The technical services division maintains the library listening rooms and also maintains and repairs audio-visual electronic equipment belonging to the various departments. The Chemical Engineering Society was founded to keep pace with the rapidly growing chemical engineering program at Tech. It affords the student an opportunity to broaden his background by giving him an insight into the chemical engineering profession from sources other than purely academic. Activities of the society include informal lectures, dinner-meetings, seminars, movies, outings, and field trips. In this way the club acquaints the future engineer with the scope and possibilities of the profession he has chosen. The club was formed mainly for those students majoring in chemical and paper engineering, but is open to any interested undergraduate.

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Counselorship, organized in 1953, conducts and promotes a series of activities that enrich the Jewish student culturally, religiously, and socially. Numerous discussion seminars with Rabbi Joseph Warren of Temple Beth-El and invited lecturers are conducted throughout the year. These seminars have stimulated thinking into many interesting topics concerned mainly with Jewish history, the Bible, and Israeli current events.

Although Hillel is basically a Jewish organization, students of other faiths are invited to join if they are interested in broadening their knowledge of the Jewish religion and Jewish people.

Iona

The Iona Fellowship was established in the fall of 1963 for the purpose of fulfilling the religious needs of the students and uniting the faculty and students in the worship of God.

Although the Fellowship was established with Protestant students in mind, the membership is open to all students. The total membership is composed of students from the State College of Lowell, Lowell General Hospital School of Nursing, and Lowell Technological Institute.

At present the activities of the Fellowship include monthly meetings held at various churches in the Greater-Lowell area. This is done with the purpose of informing the students and faculty about the different characteristics of the Protestant denominations. The meetings consist of a brief service, a supper, and then a scheduled program.

Eta Kappa Nu

Eta Kappa Nu Association is a national honor society for electrical engineering students. The Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Eta Kappa Nu was established on this campus December 12, 1964. Members of the society are chosen for their superior academic performances, concern for their fellow students, capacity for hard work, and their potential for professional success. These characteristics are evaluated on the basis of the student's academic standing, participation in campus activities, and outstanding character.

On campus, Eta Kappa Nu acts as a service organization for the Institute as a whole and particularly for the Electrical Engineering Department. Among its activities are guided tours for High Schools on campus days, publishing educational material, and "help classes" in electrical engineering studies.

Industrial Management Society

The Industrial Management Society is a professional organization for those students who are majoring in the Industrial Management program. The society attempts to bridge the gap between the academic and business worlds through plant tours, informal discussions with professors, and guest speakers from the business world at dinner-meetings held throughout the year. An annual Christmas party and end-of-the-year picnic are also sponsored by the society. The society provides the opportunity for the students to develop those personal and social skills so necessary for success in management.

Society for Advancement of Management

The University Chapter of The Society for Advancement of Management is dedicated to the development of tomorrow's managers today. The immediate objectives of the group are: to bring together executives in business and students preparing to go into business; to serve as an effective medium for the exchange and distribution of information on the problems, policies, and techniques of management and industry; and to provide students with the opportunity to participate in the activities of an organization aimed at the promotion and advancement of the art and science of management.

Sophomore, Junior, and Senior students of economics, business administration, engineering, and others with a sincere interest in management may apply for membership. Current activities have included dinner-meetings highlighting speakers from various areas of the business world, plant tours at Avco-Rad and Western Electric, newsletters, management periodicals, and monthly attendance at Boston Chapter meetings.

The Society of Plastics Engineers, Student Chapter, is one of our most active professional organizations. The society holds three dinner-meetings per year to meet socially with prominent men of the plastics industry. The society also meets directly with the industry via field trips to local plastics firms.

One of the society's primary functions is to promote the standing of the organization on the L.T.I. campus. This is achieved in various ways, one of which is informal on-campus meetings. The society conducts "Open House" tours for Tech students and high school seniors from neighboring communities, and publishes the only student organization paper on campus, "The Plasti-Scoop" and "Alumni Profiles," a departmental alumni newsletter.

First Row: M. Ide, Secretary-Treasurer; J. Donlon, Vice President; Prof. Wade, Adviser; W. Casey, Chairman; R. Dupré, W. DeMasi. Second Row: T. Tomasetti, W. Davis, J. Carrigan, L. LeBoeuf, R. Sports Car Club

The Lowell Tech Sports Car Club is presently in its third year of activity on campus and membership has increased rapidly during that time as it is expected to in the future. The club has as its purpose the promotion of sports cars and sports car activities.

Each year the club holds several rallies and usually a gumkhana. During the bad weather months, the club limits itself to informal meetings at which racing "bull sessions," talks, or films are held. The Spring Outing will be the "big event" to be conducted by the club this year.

Tech Players

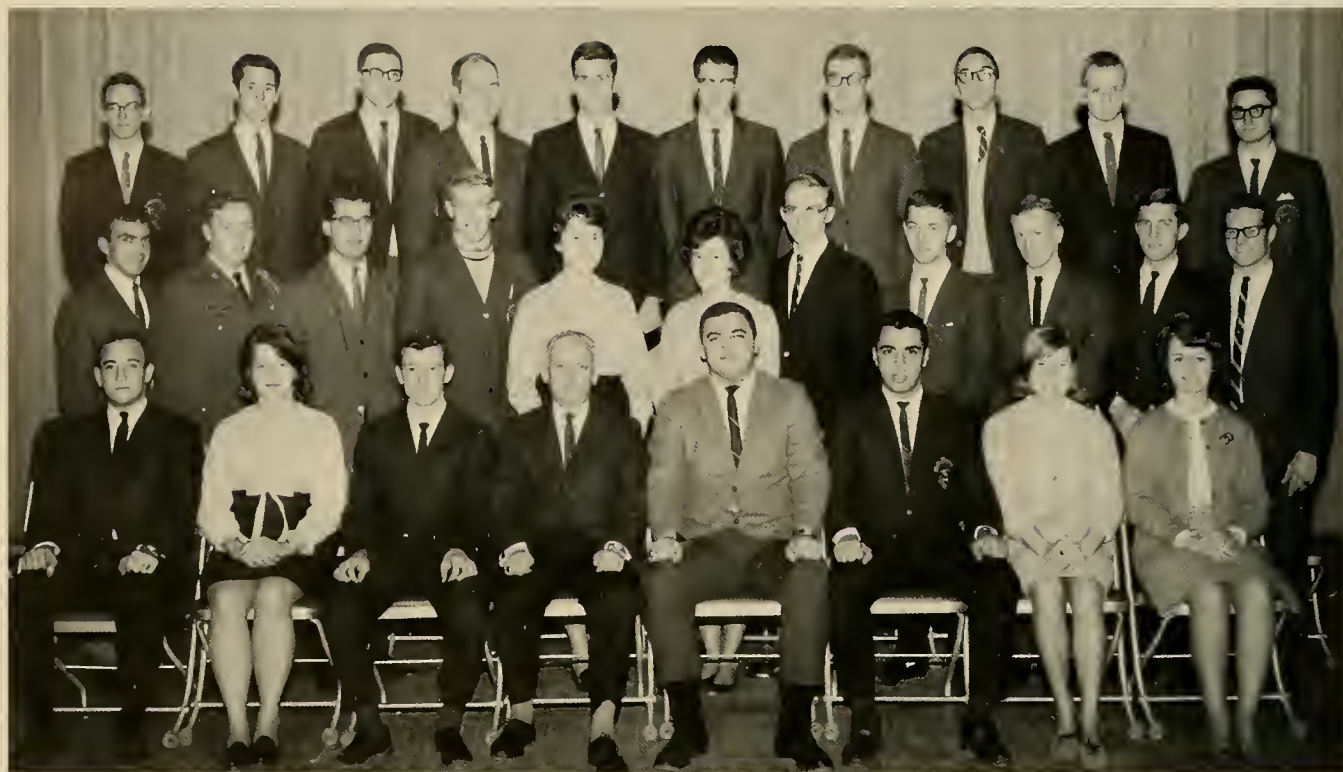

Since 1906, the Lowell Tech Players has been one of the most popular organizations on campus. From its inception, the Players has presented one major event annually, one of the principal social events of the school year, along with several other, smaller, productions. The first minstrel shows were later followed by musical revues that were composed and written by students. In 1923 tradition was changed and vaudeville productions gave way to Broadway comedies, among which were such smash productions as: "John Loves Mary," "Philadelphia Story," "The Man Who Came To Dinner," "My Sister Eileen," and "Mister Roberts." Following "Mister Roberts," the Players presented Lowell's own Bette Davis a silver Revere Bowl.

Until 1947, the public found the productions all the merrier in that the female parts were performed by "impersonators" from a predominantly male student body. In 1947, however, ten years after forming Lowell Tech's sorority, the coeds favorable changed tradition by participating in the productions.

Today, the Players, like Tech itself, is undergoing another period of transition. It is planned that future Players presentations will introduce to their audiences productions from every mode of the theater and bring the works of foreign as well as domestic playwrights to the campus.

Membership in the Tech Players is open to all interested students who wish to foster and develop their dramatic and literary talents, as well as help provide entertainment for the student body and the general public.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges is an organization which now includes over 750 colleges and universities. At Lowell Tech, final selection is made by a majority vote of the Student Council members after a point system nomination based on scholastic, athletic, and extra-curricular accomplishments.

The students recognized by the organization receive: a certificate of recognition presented at the annual honors convention; recognition in the Who's Who annual publication; and benefits from the Student Placement Service provided by the organization.

Cheerleaders

C. Mavrogianis, J. Kudron, J. Turner, Captain; S. Gaudette, K. Johnson.

The L.T.I. Cheerleaders were reorganized two years ago and membership is open to all the women students. The sole purpose of Cheerleaders is to support Tech in its athletic events, and to this end the girls put in many long hours of practice.

Under the leadership of Jim Lambert, the Tech Booters enjoyed one of their best seasons in recent years. The team finished with a strong 7-4 record by playing Brandeis in a televised game. The team is young and graduation will take only five players: Co-Capt. Dave Lee, Jack Gregory, Abhay Bharktiya, Al Ferguson, and Tom Byrne. These losses will surely be felt, but there are twenty-five members of this year's team returning next season and Coach Lambert has his sights set on another winning record.

Season's Record: Won 17 - Lost 2

This year, Tech sent its best team in the history of the school to the hardwood floor, and the boys posted an outstanding 17-2 record. Sparked by the nation's leading small college rebounder, Hank Brown, the Terriers developed into a prolific scoring machine that gained national recognition.

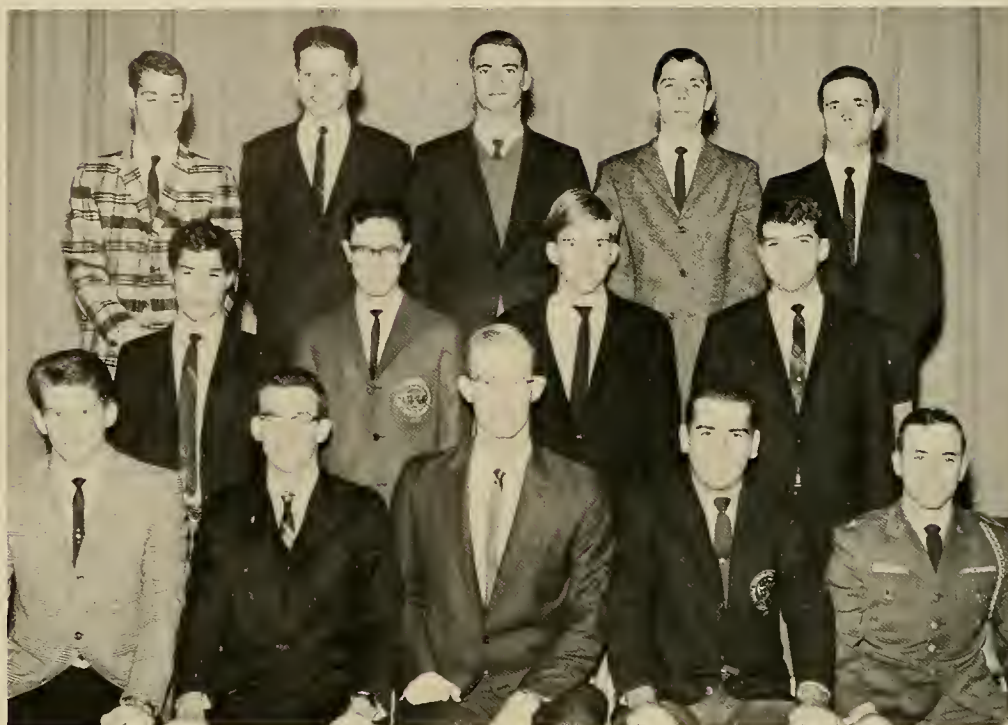

Ed Bullock reported for his first year to give Coach Oliver an excellent front-court man to go along with senior co-captain John Hay. Leading this front-court combination of Hay, Bullock, and Brown, were guards Al Roper and senior co-captain Steve Houde. Don Hadfield and Ray Kydd provided the team with valuable reserve strength and contributed largely to the team's success.

Enough praise cannot be given to this year's team. Not only did it rewrite our own school record book, but it also stepped into national ranking. Hank Brown set the school's individual game scoring and rebounding record and was the nation's leading small college rebounder, while Steve Houde ranked among the top foul shooters in New England. The team established a new single game scoring record and averaged over 100 points per game to place among the top scoring teams nationally.

The loss of co-captains Steve Houde and John Hay will certainly leave two large voids for Coach Oliver to fill, but the rest of the team will be back next year, which makes the prospects for another outstanding season next year very bright indeed.

L. T. I. Rowing Club

First Row: M. Goldstein, N. Torgerson, H. Diekman, Captain; F. Malabarba, Secretary; R. Labrecque, Cox. Second Row: J. Hause, D. Maracle, P. Flem, Manager; A. Vella. Third Row: D. Baldridge, S. Lewantowicz, H. Rice, R. Bowles, W. Ouellette.

The Rowing Club is in its second year of existence and, under the leadership of Coach Tom Cudzma, has gained the recognition and support of the entire student body. This year the team entered in the Junior Class of the Charles River Regatta and took two second places. There are plans for a boat house in the near future which will provide a base of operations, as well as a convenient and much needed equipment storage house.

Second place, Junior Eights,
Head of the Charles Regatta.

The Hockey Club is a prime example of the increasing quality of our sports. Since its beginning four years ago, through the efforts of Professor "Bucky" Harrison, the club has grown from an informal skating group into a formidable team that we can be proud of. This year Coach Morrison is directing the club and will fill the position of coach when it receives varsity status.

Ski Team

First Row: J. Deforge, D. MacKay, R. Burt, Captain; E. Nove. Second Row: R. Dona, D. Hay, D. Wallin, S. Pelczar.

Although it is one of our newest athletic organizations, the Ski Team is quickly becoming one of the most popular. The team engages in several meets during the season and has shown consistent improvement in its performance over its three years of existence. Any interested student may join and, under the capable and dedicated leadership of Captain Don Crandall of the AFROTC Department, the Varsity Ski Team is looking forward to a bright future.

Golf Team

The Golf Team is one of the winningest teams on campus and Coach "Bucky" Harrison looks forward to another enjoyable season at the beautiful Vesper Country Club against some of the top flight small college teams in New England. The team is scored by single points per team member, with a seven man team accruing seven possible points. The squad is open to all candidates including Freshmen, and Coach Harrison maintains a ladder competition throughout the year from which the starting team is selected on the basis of scoring ability. This gives every team member a chance, and provides even the top men with an incentive to constantly improve their game and maintain their standing on the ladder.

Ten-Pin Bowling

This year's All-Star bowling team opened its season in January when the team traveled to Boston for its first look at intercollegiate competition since last May. This starting quartet included Roger Boisvert, Bill Laudani (Captain), Jim Lawrence, and Derek Lough. Later in the year, the team traveled to Springfield for the Pioneer Valley Tournament, Providence for the New England Championship Tournament, Woodbridge, Conn. for the New Haven College Tournament, and to Waltham for the Greater-Boston Tournament. Last year's team compiled an enviable record by winning a total of 26 trophies in four tournaments, including two team trophies, and winning the New England Championship at Providence.

Skin Diving Club

*First Row: R. Leibowitz, R. Hanson, Secretary; P. Comins, President; H. Field, Treasurer.
Second Row: J. Kublin, W. Daku, T. Byrne.*

The Skin Diving Club was organized two years ago by a group of divers whose interests and desires were to further the activities of skin and scuba (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) diving.

With the adoption of a constitution, the club has continued to provide, for both the experienced and novice diver, an opportunity to view the wonders of an uncharted world. It is here that one could spend years observing the endless varieties of marine life, not to mention the possibilities of exploration and photography.

For the novice diver, a swimming pool is available one night a week at the YMCA in Lawrence, Mass. at which a scuba instruction course is given. This enables the neophytes to receive practical experience until the basic principles of scuba diving become second nature to them. Thus, the Skin Diving Club exists for promoting new interests, life-long friendships, and safe diving techniques for its members.

Swimming

Swimming is one of the best known ways to build and maintain physical fitness since it utilizes and requires co-ordination of all the muscles and limbs of the body. It also benefits the respiratory and circulatory systems. Besides being beneficial to the health, the club develops safe and sane swimming habits. Membership is open to all interested students, and its regular practice sessions to improve swimming and diving techniques make it one of our most interesting and up-and-coming clubs.

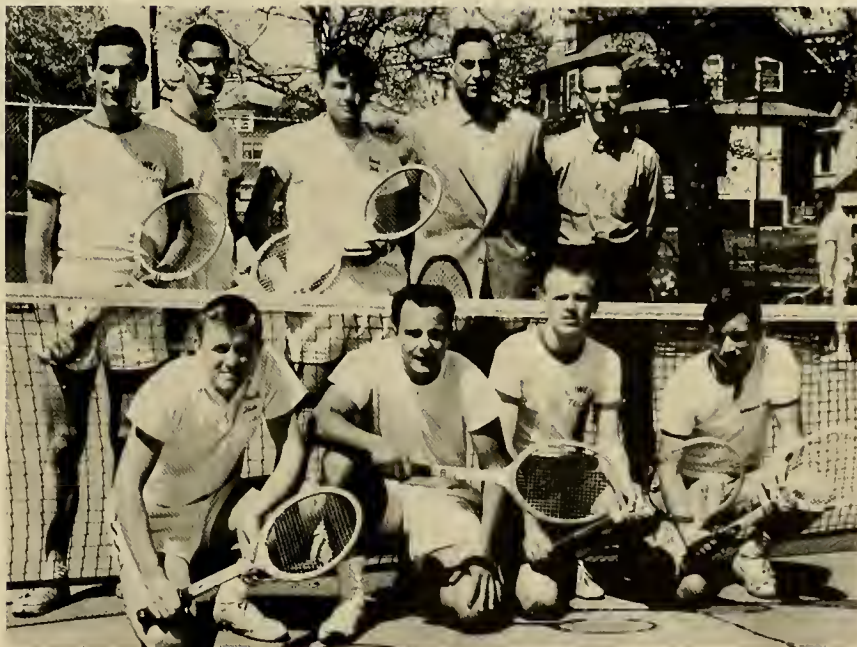

Tennis

First Row: P. Bradstreet, J. Day, Captain; H. Shapiro, P. Czupryna. Second Row: J. Guberski, Manager; D. Brzezinski, G. Shatal.

The Tennis Team, like any other athletic organization, offers opportunities to maintain physical fitness. The game has a venerable and international tradition with respect to the cordiality and good sportsmanship that tennis players display, and which accompany all matches, whether these are at school or in a tournament. The team spirit and will-to-win, however, are no less intense than in other more vigorous sports.

This year Coach Jim Oliver will welcome back veterans Capt. Joe Day, Jack Gregory, Giori Shatal, Pete Bradstreet, Bryon Samson and Dave Brezynski. Each of these players has had at least three years of varsity experience. With such an experienced nucleus the team will no doubt have another very successful season and should be one of the best in the circuit.

Baseball

*First Row: R. Bushong, S. Raber, P. Eldridge, Co-Captain; A. Klayton, Co-Captain; J. Hiatt.

The prospects for the 1966 season are extremely bright. The team will be loaded with veteran lettermen, and Coach "Rusty" Yarnall should have one of his best seasons ever. Once again Tom Broderick will be on the receiving end of an excellent pitching battery consisting of Bob Jenkins, Barry Eldridge, Bob Goldthwaite, Al Klayton, and Ed Gass.

Coach Yarnall's biggest task will be to come up with a replacement for Jim Scery, last year's shortstop and captain. However, the rest of the infield will be manned by lettermen including Fran Hachey, Ray Cippola, Stan Raber, Al Young, and Ray Sarosy.

The outfield will also have veterans Bob Bushong, Joe Chmara, and Bob Johnson. With a little help from the freshman class, the team should post its best season in recent years.

Barbell Club

*First Row: J. Orphanos, Secretary; T. Pupo, Vice President; J. Sheehan, President.
Second Row: M. Gilware, Supervisor; R. Thibault, T. Byrne.*

Since its inception in 1963, the Barbell Club has had physical conditioning as its primary purpose. The club provides an organization for membership to promote vigorously the benefits of an intelligent weightlifting program to uninitiated students. Consistent with this ideal, the club pledges to maintain a well-supervised, safe weightlifting room.

The highlight of the year's activity is the annual weightlifting meet. Both Olympic and power lifters are represented; with awards being presented to the winners in each weight class competition.

Varsity Club

First Row: J. Day, Vice President; F. Hachey, J. Hay, Treasurer; R. Kelly, President; J. Kopycinski, Adviser; S. Houde, Secretary; A. Bharaktiya, G. Garrido. Second Row: R. Bushong, H. Shapiro, S. Raber, L. Flynn, D. Lee, J. Guberski, M. Buja, P. Czupryna, A. Klayton, M. Levine, E. Lavinia. Third Row: J. Hiatt, G. Fowle, A. Roper, M. Green, D. Brzezinski, R. Sauter, A. Young, P. Bradstreet.

The main function of the Varsity Club is to unite all lettermen into one common organization to work for the improvement of our athletic program and to promote annual events among the faculty, the student body, and the fraternities.

The yearly activities of the club include sponsoring the Inter-Departmental Basketball Tournament, awarding the individual letter certificates to all varsity lettermen, selecting the recipient of the Lester Cushing Award, and assisting the Athletic Director with the Spring Sports Banquet. A new service this year has been the serving of refreshments to visiting varsity teams after home games.

IN RETROSPECT — CLASS OF 1966

Yes, some six hundred of us accumulated on Tech's campus that sunny September day of 1962, with great expectations and with an eagerness that quickly dwindled in the days that followed. Or did it?

Remember the R.O.T.C. exams? They were the only ones you had passed by the time finals rolled around. Registration was something else. The lines were so long that any position within one hundred yards was close. Sure it was rough, but our new "buddies," the T.O.C., were there to help us get "oriented." In spite of all the hazing, we came up with a few schemes of our own which were undoubtedly the "BEST TRIX" in the world, at least we thought so. We flew a beautiful flag from the top of Southwick Hall, did a little engraving in some freshly poured cement on the sidewalk, managed to defeat the T.O.C. in a basketball game, and sorrowfully dragged them through our own "Muddy Merrimack River."

Our class was actually being organized before most of us arrived that first September because, as it turned out, most of the promoters came from the pre-college summer session course. As the year wore on, we produced some of the sexiest male cheerleaders that soccer fans had ever seen. While most of the dorm students wined and dined at "Joe's," a few of us found the time to boycott "Big Ed's," which caused a little turmoil around the campus. We wasted no time getting into the sports spotlight by being the first freshman team in many years to win the intramural football trophy. Our spirit and school support was further demonstrated by sending our own cheering section to M.I.T., attired in freshman beanies and other distinguished array.

The next event of our first year at Tech was the election of class officers, the results of which were: R. Hoeske, Pres.; C. Pitasi, Vice-Pres.; F. Pioli, Sec.; E. Phillips, Treas.; and F. Roden, Student Council Rep. With the election of these officers, the class started work on the project which was to become something of a tradition at L.T.I., as well as a focal point of recognition for the class of 1966. This was COMARIETY; a rare blend of comedy, art, variety, and talent. Despite the fact that our first and last dress rehearsal was held the night of the show, "Freddie the Freshman" and the rest of the cast delighted the students, faculty, and the administration with their talents.

Second semester also opened the doors of the fraternities on campus, which provided us with our first real social life since we arrived in September. Before leaving for the summer vacation or returning for summer school, we pulled off the last of the "BEST TRIX" for the year—displaying Mrs. Hall's Volkswagen on the graduation platform in front of Cumnock Hall.

A few of us did not return for our second year, but enough did so that we had little difficulty in properly indoctrinating the incoming freshmen, although now it was our turn to lose the tug-of-war.

Under the leadership of the following class officers: C. Pitasi, Pres.; E. Allard, Vice-Pres.; S. Alimony, Sec.; E. Phillips, Treas.; and R. Hoeske, Student Council Rep.; the class adopted a newsletter and an executive council to reunite the class, since most everything that had kept us together our freshman year had vanished. But not all of the spirit of '66 was gone. COMARIETY returned with better talent and organization, and was accepted with great approval from everyone who attended. Carl Mendosa, our new master of ceremonies, had the audience "rolling in the aisles" with his satirical wit, not to mention Alex Olsen's hilarious impersonations and the great folk talent of the Taverers. Even "Sammy Sophomore" was present for the show.

All-Tech Weekend, featuring the Chad Mitchell Trio, was considered the best in Tech's history. In addition to the entertainment, a snow sculpture contest was held which certainly gave us the college winter weekend effect.

We had a lot of fun, joined fraternities, took new courses, and made many new friends that year, but we also lost a great president, John F. Kennedy.

Even fewer of us returned for our junior year, and under the direction of our new slate of officers we continued to display the type of spirit we were remembered for and will be remembered for in the future. They were: R. Lessard, Pres.; M. Anderson, Vice-Pres.; R. Papesch, Sec.; L. Bushner, Treas.; and F. Freeman, Student Council Rep. Quite a few members of the class attended a dinner-dance we held at the Olde Coach Inn. President Lydon, Dean Ivers, and Prof. James joined in and enjoyed the occasion as much as we did.

The last COMARIETY produced by the class of 1966 came off with even more polish than the previous year. Carl Mendosa was back, along with Alex Olsen, to provide the humor for which they had become known throughout the school. To everyone's delight The Jeffersons were on hand to add the professional touches so needed to make the show a great success. The foreword to our last program, written by Andy Clifford, is the best way to summarize exactly what COMARIETY has meant to us.

"For the third straight year, COMARIETY strikes again. Born in 1962, it belongs to the Class of 1966, but in a sense, it belongs to everyone. Offering the best in COMedy and vARIETY, it is an expression of exuberance; a peek at man's foibles where the barbs of satire probe instead of provoke.

"The talent in COMARIETY is made up of students and, although the show may never reach Broadway, the drama of preparation, the work and sweat, would rival the longest Broadway run. Before you now is the culmination of weeks of preparation, so settle back in your luxurious padded chair and laugh the laugh of one who has seen himself as others see him."

"This is COMARIETY."

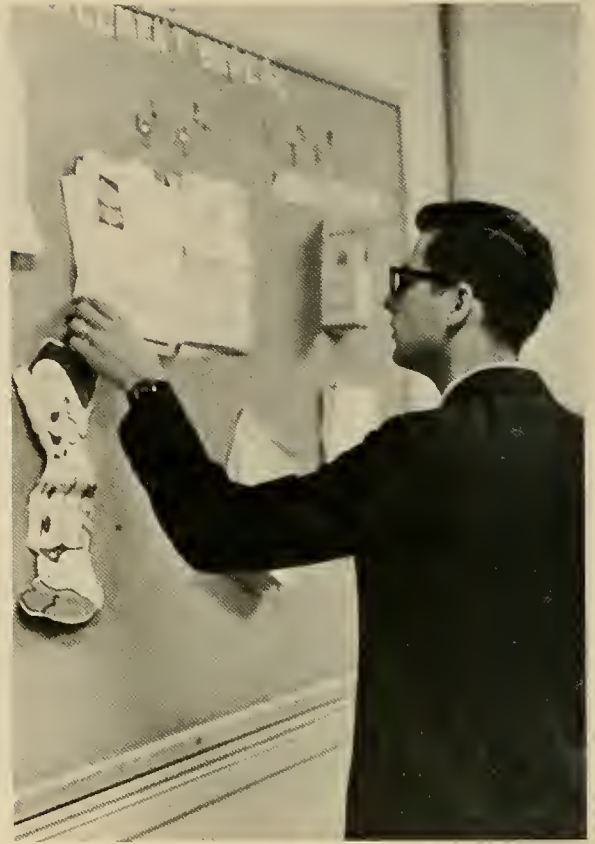

Our last year was upon us before we knew it! Already one of the richest classes to come along in quite a few years, we decided to drop COMARIETY, not because we wanted to, but because of job interviews, graduation preparations, and the usual cases of "senioritis." To increase our treasury, we ran a successful dance at Cumnock Hall.

Under the direction of: L. Donnelly, Pres.; M. Anderson, Vice-Pres.; J. Friedrich, Treas.; R. Papesh, Sec.; and K. Whitmarsh, Student Council Rep.; we instituted a new policy concerning class rings enabling juniors to get their rings, instead of waiting until their senior year as we had to.

We were privileged to see the new gymnasium under construction, as well as the start of the proposed high-rise dorms. A badly needed infirmary was also instituted to provide better medical facilities for all Tech students. Senior Week proved to be a real wild ending to an equally wild beginning four years ago.

We are proud of our accomplishments, eagerly anticipate the future, and all agree that, "'66 was a very good year!"

Class of 1966 - Seniors

First Row: M. Anderson, Vice President; L. Donnelly, President; K. Whitmarsh, Student Council Representative. Second Row: J. Friedrich, Treasurer; R. Papesh, Secretary.

We, the Class of 1966, wish to give special recognition to Prof. Ernest P. James. He is a man who has enjoyed giving up his time to help us in any way he could, even though it meant a sacrifice to his family, his job, or his leisure.

We were certainly fortunate to have him as a friend and class adviser for the past four years. Words cannot express our gratitude and, although he graduated from Tech twenty-five years ago, he is as much a part of the spirit of '66 as the class is itself.

Our sincere thanks and good wishes are extended to you, Ernie, for everything you have done for us. In spirit, we all join Dick Lessard in shaking your hand.

TO OUR

ADVERTISERS

The financial assistance we receive from our advertisers is gratefully acknowledged. We hope they prosper and that the goodwill they have shown will be remembered by our alumni and friends through the years.

PROGRESS TODAY SHAPES A BRIGHTER TOMORROW IN TEXTILES

By facing and evaluating their problems today, textile producers already have begun to mold the industry's exciting future. Solutions to these problems, born in the laboratory where the textile fibers and finishes of tomorrow are first produced, will of themselves create new production problems.

To solve these new problems in turn, the efforts of the James Hunter Machine Company and its subsidiaries in the South and West, closely paralleling those of the textile industry, concentrate on developing new and better machinery for processing today's and tomorrow's fibers and fabrics. James Hunter's specialization in machinery for the entire textile industry exclusively since 1847 furnishes priceless experience for future innovations in wet finishing, drying, fiber handling and feeding, non-woven processing and other textile operations.

The experienced counselling which the James Hunter Machine Company and its subsidiaries make available to textile manufacturers planning new equipment installations can have profound influence on their success. Following a century-old tradition, we offer this assistance without obligation, and with the continued assurance that:

"Built by Hunter... It's Dependable!"

Special TEXTILE DICTIONARY for BEST RESULTS in Textile Processing

Castrolite® (kās/ trō. lītē)

A highly sulphonated castor oil made by an improved process of manufacture. A stable penetrant for dyeing or kier boiling. Used extensively in finishing.

D

Discolite® (dīs/ kō. lītē)

Concentrated sodium sulphoxylate formaldehyde available in lump, pea, rice or powder form.

A powerful reducing agent, stable at high temperatures. Widely used to effect reduction and solution of vat colors, and for discharge effects when applied to colored grounds. Effective when mixed with vat colors and discharge pastes wherever the reducing agent must retain its reducing power after being dried into the fabric.

Dispersall (dīs. pūr/ sal)

A long chain ethylene oxide condensate in the form of a colorless, neutral, somewhat viscous liquid. Fully resistant to hard water, and miscible with water in all proportions. A retardant and leveling assistant in vat dyeing.

Used widely as a dispersing agent in dyeing synthetic fibers with disperse colors and for fast color salts and bases in Napthol dyeing and printing.

Effective in stripping to prevent redeposition of the color on stripped goods.

N

Neowet (nē/ ō. wēt)

Complex Polyethelene Ether in the form of a pale yellow, slightly viscous liquid.

A non-ionic surface active wetting agent, effective at all temperatures. Completely compatible with enzymatic desizing agents and readily soluble in water. Contains 33 1/4% active ingredients. Widely used in scouring all types of textile fabrics and for general wetting purposes.

Neowet X (nē/ ō. wēt)

Organic Ether Sulphonate in the form of a water white slightly viscous liquid.

An anionic surface active wetting agent, effective at all temperatures. Does not affect enzyme activity in desizing. Compatible with hydrogen peroxide and resin finishes. High detergent value. Contains 20% active ingredients.

Neozymes® (nē/ ō. zīms)

Desizing agents made up of amylolytic, proteolytic and fat splitting enzymes available in the form of crystalline powder or liquid concentrate for high or low temperature requirements.

Neozymes quickly remove all trace of starch glue or gelatin sizing without danger of damage to even the most delicate fabrics. For best results, use with NEOWET to speed saturation.

P

Parolite® (pār/ ō. lītē)

Zinc sulphoxylate formaldehyde in the form of white crystalline powder. A highly concentrated stripping agent for all forms of wool and modern synthetics.

Completely soluble in water. Leaves stripped goods soft, completely free of zinc dust and in most receptive condition for further processing. Often completely strips goods where other stripping agents fail. Very effective in discharge printing on acetate rayon.

Vatrolite® (vāt/ rō. lītē)

Concentrated sodium hydrosulphite in the form of white crystalline powder. A powerful reducing agent for vat colors, ideal for dry feeding because of its free flowing, dustless character. Completely soluble in water.

Effective stripping agent for direct, sulphur and vat colors on cellulosic fabrics.

Quickly removes rust stains from cotton goods. May be stored indefinitely.

Available with optical whites and in buffered formulas for high temperature use without excessive alkalinity.

Velvoray® (vēl/ vō. rāy)

A high grade finishing oil made up of sulphonated vegetable oil combined with specially selected fats. Compatible with all materials commonly used for finishing textiles. Will not foam, smoke or oxidize. Imparts no rancid odor. Gives body and has emulsion stability. Widely used to add a silky softness to all types of fabrics.

Velvo Softener (vēl/ vō)

A highly sulphonated tallow in the form of a creamy white paste, easily dispersed in water. Used in general finishing of all types of textile fabrics. Will not "smoke off" or change color in high temperature operations such as calendering or drying. Has no effect on light fastness of colors.

Strategically placed warehouses plus company owned trucks add up to fast dependable delivery, every time.
